33. The rules in this Chapter shall, unless there is anything repugnant in the subject or context, apply—

(a) to every licensee,
(b) to every owner when the pressure exceeds 125 volts.
Nothing in this rule in this Chapter shall apply to any owner when the pressure does not exceed 125 volts.

34. Instructions for the reduction of current flowing from electric shock, obtainable from every Electric Supply, shall be placed in a conspicuous place in every generating station and sub-station.

Provisions to be adopted by licensee.

35. A licensee shall adopt efficient means for protecting any portion of an electric supply-line or any apparatus, gland wire or branch-wire of an electric supply-line which is exposed in such a position as to be liable to injury from lightning.

36. A licensee shall be responsible that all electric supply-lines, fittings and apparatus belonging to him, or under his control, which may be on a consumer's premises, are maintained in a safe condition, and shall take all due precautions to avoid risk of causing fire on such premises.

37. A licensee shall insert a suitable notice in each service line (other than an earthed neutral conductor or the earthed neutral conductor of a concentric cable) within a consumer's premises, in a reasonable position as close as possible to the point of entry. Such notice shall be consistent with an adequately insulated live (dead receptacle).

Where more than one consumer is supplied through a common service-line, such individual notices (if he so requires) shall be given as independent notices at the point of junction to the common service.

38. All portions of a service line on a consumer's premises, shall, unless inconsistent without the aid of a ladder or other special appliance, be continuously covered, with suitable material and thoroughly protected against injury to the insulation or cover of insulation, and any metal forcing part of the electric circuit shall not, unless connected with earth, be exposed so that it can be touched.

Provisions to be adopted by owner.

39. When an owner generates or uses energy—

(1) the supply of energy to every vehicle, travelling train or the like shall be efficiently controlled by a suitable switch, so that by its means all pressure may be cut off from all apparatus connected and from any device in connection therewith;

(2) having taken portable motors shall be specially flexible, heavily insulated and provided with mechanical safety; when the protection is by means of portable means or covering, the covering or covering shall be in metallic connection with the frame of the motor;

- (3) where bare conductors are used in a building, they shall be inaccessible without the aid of a ladder or other special appliance;
 (4) no part of any part of any electrical apparatus shall be exposed while the part is charged to a pressure of or exceeding 250 volts.

Electric supply-lines.

- Maintenance. 40. Every electric supply-line shall be maintained in a safe condition as regards both electrical and mechanical conditions.
41. All circuits and apparatus shall be so arranged that there shall be no danger of any part thereof becoming accidentally charged to any pressure beyond the limits of pressure for which it is intended.
42. Where an electric supply-line crosses, or is in proximity to, any metallic substance, such protection as an Electric Inspector may approve shall be taken by the licensee or the owner, as the case may be, against the possibility of the metallic substance becoming charged.
43. Where an electric supply-line was laid or erected previous to such metallic substance, the cost incurred in taking such precautions shall be refunded to the licensee or owner, as the case may be, by the person to whom the metallic substance belongs.

Provided that, where the electric supply-line was laid or erected previous to such metallic substance, the cost incurred in taking such precautions shall be refunded to the licensee or owner, as the case may be, by the person to whom the metallic substance belongs.

- Cover. 44. Every electric supply-line (other than the neutral conductor of a concentric cable) shall be protected by a suitable cover.

- 45. All metallic coverings enclosing or protecting any electric supply-line shall be connected with earth, and shall be so joined and connected across all junction boxes and other openings as to make good electrical connection throughout their whole length.

Provided that this rule shall not apply to brackets, structures, standards, switch-frames or other fittings, where the supply is at low pressure.

- 46. The covers or doors of all junction boxes or pillars in any street shall be so secured that they cannot be opened except by means of a special appliance.

- 47. In every distributing system in which there is a neutral conductor, where the pressure between the neutral conductor and an outer or phase conductor exceeds 175 volts, the neutral conductor shall be connected with earth by two separate and distinct earth connections and in accordance with the following provisions, namely:—

- (a) the connection with earth of the neutral conductor shall be made at one point only on each district system, namely, at the generating station or sub-station, as the case may be, and the location of the system shall be maintained at all other points;
- (b) the current from the neutral conductor to earth shall, in the case of a licensee's distributing system, be continuously recorded, and if at any time it exceeds one thousandth part of the maximum supply current, steps shall immediately be taken to improve the insulation of the system;
- (c) the connection with earth referred to in clause (a) shall not be made by the aid of, nor shall it be in contact with, any water-main, gas-main or similar main not belonging to the licensee or owner, as the case may be; a connection, not exceeding 10 ohms, may be inserted between the neutral conductor and earth, and if so inserted it shall be of sufficient cross-sectional area to carry the current which would pass should an outer or phase conductor become accidentally connected with earth;
- (d) the connection with earth shall not be removed except for the purpose of testing, in which case it shall be made good again as soon as such test is finished, and a record of any such disconnection shall be kept by the licensee or owner, as the case may be;

Provided that the earth connection shall not, in a licensee's system, be removed except between 1 A.M. and 5 A.M.

- 48. The neutral point of the star-winding of each district polyphase multi-wire system may be either connected with earth or insulated.

- 49. Where insulation conductors are used the insulation shall be maintained throughout, except that the external conductive may be connected with earth at one point.

Provided that where energy is generated by an owner for use on his own premises, a suitable conductor, the external conductor of which is insulated, may be used.

Motion or High Pressure.

- 50. Where energy is to be applied or used at medium or high pressure the supply shall not be commenced, or continued, or resumed, until or unless the following provisions have been or are complied with, namely:—

- (a) all live parts of apparatus shall, unless accessible only to, and under the control of, an authorized person, be protected by mechanically strong metal casings or coverings securely fastened throughout;
- (b) a suitable switch shall be inserted in each conductor, near the point of origin on the consumer's or owner's premises, as the case may be;
- (c) every connection, unless only accessible to an authorized person, shall be, as far as is practicable, completely enclosed in a mechanically strong metal casing or covering, suitably insulated throughout or fixed in such other manner as may be approved in writing by an Electric Inspector;

- (d) The supply to every apparatus shall be effectively controlled by a switch in each conductor, so that by its means all pressure can be cut off from the apparatus concerned and from any device in connection therewith.
- (e) The word "Danger," both in English and in the vernacular, shall be affixed in a conspicuous position near every conductor (being the property of an owner) and near every meter, switchboard or regulating apparatus in connection with the same.
33. Where the conductors of a multi-wire system between any of which there is medium or high pressure, are brought into a building for installation at low pressure, the supply to the system shall be delivered to two or more pairs of terminals, and the wiring from those terminals shall be kept separate and distinct. If in any such case two or more switches, terminals or conductors between any of which there is a difference of pressure exceeding 250 volts, are fixed within reach of one another, all their live parts shall be accessible only to authorized persons.
34. Where the pressure is medium or high, there shall be, in front of every main switchboard in a generating station or sub-station, a space of not less than 3 feet in width, and, if there are any attachments to those conductors at the back of the switchboard, the space (if any) behind the switchboard shall be either less than 3 inches, or more than 36 inches in width, measured from the frontmost springing point of any attachment or connection. If the space behind exceeds 24 inches in width there shall be a passage way clear to a height of not less than 6 feet, over an opening any horizontal aspects of the switchboard, which may be placed at a height of not less than 4 feet 6 inches.
35. In every generating station, sub-station, traction line or pillar in which there are any circuits or apparatus intended for medium or high pressure, the pressure of any one circuit shall be made readily distinguishable from that of any other.

- (2) Where energy is to be used by an owner at high pressure, the installation shall not be brought into use except with the approval in writing of an Electric Inspector and subject to such conditions (if any) as he may think reasonable and proper in the circumstances.
38. (1) A high pressure circuit shall not be brought into use unless the insulation of every part thereof has withstood the ordinary application, during half an hour, in the case of every circuit supply-line, machine, device or apparatus of a pressure 50 per cent. greater than the maximum pressure to which it is intended to be subjected in use; and the licensee or owner, as the case may be, shall duly record the results of such test.

Electric Traction.

68. Rules 59 to 64 shall apply in the case of energy used under Part III of the Act for purposes of traction. In these rules, the conductor used for transmitting energy to a vehicle is referred to as the "line," and the other conductor as the "return."

69. Notwithstanding the provisions of rule 64, the pressure of supply on any trolley-wire or other conductor used in direct electrical and mechanical connection with any vehicle shall not be high enough with the written approval of the Local Government and subject to such conditions (if any) as the Local Government may prescribe.

70. Every bus shall be insulated throughout, and every return may be insulated throughout or may be uninsulated to the extent hereinafter provided.

(2) Where the owner's uninsulated return is in proximity to any metallic pipe, structure or substance not belonging to him, he shall, if so required by the person to whom such pipe, structure or substance belongs, connect his return therewith at the expense of the latter.

73. (1) Where the return is partly or entirely uninsulated, the owner shall, in the construction and maintenance of his system, adopt such means for reducing the difference produced by the current between the potential of the uninsulated return at any one point and the potential of the insulated return at any other point as to ensure that the difference of potential between the uninsulated return and any metallic pipe, structure or substance in the vicinity shall not exceed four volts, where the return is relatively positive, or one and one-half volts, where the return is relatively negative.

(2) The person to whom any such pipe, structure or substance as is referred to in sub-rule (1) belongs, may, in respect of the same, require the owner of the uninsulated return, at reasonable times and intervals, to ascertain by test in his presence, or in that of his representative, whether the condition specified in the said sub-rule is secured; and, if such condition as aforesaid is found to be secured, all reasonable expenses of and incidental to the carrying out of the test shall be borne by the owner of the metallic pipe, structure or substance.

76. Where the return is partly or entirely unisolated, the owner shall keep a continuous record of the difference of potential during the working of his system between any location of an isolated return with an unisolated return and the point on the main most distant from that location, and the difference of potential shall be as great as possible across rails.

Where the return is wholly insulated and contained within the conduit, the latter shall be connected with earth at the grounding station or sub-station through an instrument suitable for the indication of any outbreak or partial contact of either the line or the return with the conduit. (b) The leakage current shall be ascertained daily, before or after the hours of running, when the line is fully charged; and, if at any time it is found that it exceeds one ampere per mile of single trackway track, the transmission and use of energy shall be suspended unless the leakage is stopped within twenty-four hours.
78. Where both the line and the return are not placed within a conduit, the leakage current shall be ascertained daily before or after the hours of running, when the line is fully charged; and, if at any time it is found that it exceeds one-half of an ampere per mile of single trackway track, the transmission and use of energy shall be suspended unless the leakage is stopped within twenty-four hours.
79. Provision as to the satisfaction of an Electric Inspector shall be taken by the owner of every vehicle to prevent—
(a) the access of passengers to any portion of the electric circuit where there is danger to them of receiving an electric shock; (b) any metal, handrail or other portable substance liable to be handled by passengers becoming charged.
80. Where any cable on which cars run are used as a return, the current density in such cable shall not exceed more ampere per square inch of cross-sectional area.
81. Every trolley-wire shall be constructed in sections not exceeding one mile in length, and means shall be provided for isolating such sections.
82. No trolley-wire shall be of less cross-sectional area than eight one-hundredths of a square inch, nor shall it have a tensile strength of less than 3,500 lbs.
83. A trolley-wire as a traction feeder on the same supports as a trolley-wire shall nowhere be at a height from the surface of the street of less than 17 feet, except where it passes under a bridge or other fixed structure, in which case it shall be suspended to the satisfaction of an Electric Inspector. The intervals between the supports shall not exceed 140 feet.
84. There shall be not less than 15 inches between the overhang of any passing-wire and every post carrying the trolley-wire.
85. Within 15 days of receiving notice that a new aerial line or telegraph-wire is, or is about to be, erected across a trolley-wire, or before hanging into use any trolley-wire erected under any aerial line or telegraph-wire, the owner of the line or wire last aforesaid, in such cases as may be agreed to by the owner concerned and approved of by an Electric Inspector, or, in the absence of such an agreement and approval, in accordance with the following conditions (which also attached diagrams), namely:—
(1) Where there is only one trolley-wire, the guard-wire shall be erected as in Diagram A.
(2) Where there are two trolley-wires and the distance between them does not exceed 15 inches, two guard-wires shall be erected as in Diagram B.
(3) Where there are two trolley-wires and the distance between them exceeds 15 inches but does not exceed 40 inches, three guard-wires shall be erected as in Diagram C.
(4) Where there are two trolley-wires and the distance between them exceeds 40 inches, each trolley-wire shall be separately guarded as in Diagram D.
(5) Every guard-wire shall be connected with earth at each point at which its electrical continuity is broken, and it shall also be connected at intervals of not more than five spans with the rails.
(6) Every guard-wire shall, if made of iron or of steel, be galvanized, and shall have a breaking stress of not less than 1,500 lbs.
(7) The size of the trolley-hook shall be as limited, that if the trolley leaves the trolley-wire it shall not foul the guard-wire.
(8) Where a telegraph-wire, though not crossing a trolley-wire, is nevertheless liable to fall or be blown down upon a trolley-wire, a guard-wire shall be erected so that the falling telegraph-wire shall fall on the guard-wire before it can reach the trolley-wire. If the trolley-wire is enclosed within a triangle formed by the vertical plane of a telegraph-wire and an imaginary line drawn at an angle of 45° from the uppermost telegraph-wire on the side nearest to the trolley-wire, a guard-wire shall be erected on the span-wire or on the cross-arms.
(9) Where a telegraph-wire is liable to fall or be blown down upon an arch, stay-wire or span-wire, and so slide down upon a trolley-wire, guard-wires shall be provided to prevent such sliding.

EXAMINATION IN SCHOOL MANAGEMENT AND IN THE ART OF TEACHING FOR TEACHERS IN EUROPEAN SCHOOLS IN THE MADRAS PRESIDENCY AND IN THE CIVIL AND MILITARY STATION, BANGALORE, UNDER ARTICLE 35 OF THE CODE OF REGULATIONS FOR EUROPEAN SCHOOLS.

An examination in School Management and the Art of Teaching under article 80 of the Code of Regulations for European Schools, Madras and Bangalore, will be held in December 1936. The date and content of the examination will be notified later.

2. The assignments as given to European teachers who have taught in recognized European Schools in the Presidency of Malaya and the Civil and Military Service, Bangalore, do not seem that two years' service, December 1951 to December 1952, under the supervision of the Inspector of European Schools or the Inspectors of Girls' Schools, is sufficient for the elevation of the Inspector or Inspectress concerned as regards their methods and skill in teaching and in management. In deciding whether the two years' work has been satisfactory or not the Inspecting officers will be guided by the confidential reports received in accordance with the departmental rules relating to preliminary teachers, as well as by their observation of the teacher's work at the annual inspections.

Applications should be made on printed forms which may be obtained from the Inspector of Elementary Schools, Old Cottage, Madras S.W., and should reach the Inspector not later than October 1st, 1943. They should be accompanied by a covering letter, in which should be quoted any remarks made by the Inspecting officer on Table (A) of the annual inspection reports of the present and previous years relating to the status of the teacher and his or her eligibility to appear for the examination. It should also be mentioned whether the applicant appeared for the examination in 1940 or not.

Applications from teachers employed in schools under the jurisdiction of an Inspector of Girls' Schools should be submitted through the Inspector concerned in order that the latter may have the opportunity of getting the certificate of eligibility appended to the printed form of application. Two copies of such form, after the submission of the application, but each teachers as are found eligible, shall be forwarded to the Inspector, who will be required to sign the prescribed box (signature) before a decision on the application.

[illegible]

4. Candidates wishing to assure themselves that their applications have been received, should enclose an addressed post card in their respective applications. The post card should bear the reader's address only and no other writing. Such post cards will be returned to them in due season with the Inspector's acknowledgment.

5. The following is the curriculum for the examination for the Middle and the Primary Teachers' certificate. The same papers will be set for both grades, but will contain a certain number of alternative questions of a simpler nature for candidates of the Primary grade.

STUDY MATERIALS.

- (c) School buildings and equipment; the bearing of various types of school building on the work of the school; sanitary conditions and supervision.
- (d) The methods for different types of European schools; the framing of syllabuses in different subjects and of time-tables.
- (e) School records including European school registers and returns.
- (f) The moral aim of school work and its connection with the home. Formation of habits—general and special—such as order, cleanliness, neatness, industry, loyalty to fellow-pupils and the school, the intelligent use of leisure. Importance of studying the self-reliant pupil. Personality of teacher. School drill, common breaches of order and decorum and how to deal with them. Breaches of the moral law and how to deal with them. Relations between teacher and pupil and teacher and parent; progress and conduct reports.

ART OF TEACHING

General principles of method.—(1) The division of a subject into sections suitable (a) for each school year or term, (b) for each lesson. Differences which may be noticed between the sequence of ideas or arrangement of the subject matter, which may be demanded (c) by the nature of the child's mind and (d) by the systematic treatment of text-books. The use of inductive rather than deductive methods.

(2) Perception and apprehension.

(3) The typical lesson type; the four steps—

There was a break in the West Coast monsoon from the 28th to about the 31st of the month. During this time very little rain fell on the West Coast while over the greater part of the Presidency showers were of daily occurrence and occasionally heavy rain. Very little rain fell on the Madras Coast however till the 23rd of the month, when a low pressure area appeared in the Bay, extending from Ceylon to Saurashtra. This depression gradually moved east in the south-west of the Bay and then to the north-east, passing down the coast of Gujaraht to the east of the mouth. Heavy rain fell on 25th and 26th and also the 4th of the month. On 24th a depression formed in Madras in 24 hours in the evening of the 27th. Temperature at Madras rose to 90° on the 28th and was considerably below the average during the day hours; nights also were appreciably cooler than usual.
